INTRODUCTION

1.1 Puerto Rico Department of Labor and Human Resources

The PRDLHR was conceived under Article IV, Section 6, of Puerto Rico’s Constitution, while its role was further defined by Act No. 15-1931, as amended, and Act No. 86-1950, as amended. As levied thereunder, PRDLHR is the Government’s bureau in charge of implementing, developing and coordinating the public policy and programs that are directed towards formation and capacitation of human resources that are indispensable to cover workforce needs, along incidental and related matters.

1.2 Puerto Rico Innovation and Technology

Pursuant to Act No. 75-2019 (“Act No. 75”), PRITS is the Government’s office in charge of implementing, developing and coordinating the Government’s public policy regarding information technology, along incidental and related matters.

1.3 COVID-19 and the Great Lockdown

The coronavirus disease of 2019 is an infectious viral disease caused by severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (“COVID-19”). Since China first alerted the World Health Organization (“WHO”) of flu-like cases in its Hubei’s province capital of Wuhan on December 31, 2019, COVID-19 has spread globally, resulting in an ongoing pandemic and a global humanitarian challenge. As of May 9th, 2020, there were approximately 4 million confirmed cases with around 277,000 confirmed deaths worldwide. As of the same date, in Puerto Rico there were 2,031 confirmed cases and 102 confirmed deaths.

Currently there are no available vaccines nor specific antiviral treatments for COVID-19. Hence, in order to protect lives, governments around the world, including the Government, have implemented preventive measures to reduce transmission of the infection, such as: staying at home, avoiding crowds, keeping social distancing and constantly practicing overall good hygiene. These preventive measures have included widespread closure of businesses, which in turn has resulted in a significant economic slowdown (“Great Lockdown”). According to the International Monetary Fund (“IMF”), the Great Lockdown will likely cause the worst economic recession since the Great Depression. The Great Lockdown has caused the Government to heavily rely on existing technology systems in order to operate and provide services to the people of Puerto Rico.

The Government Parties, however, may accept the recommendation of the Evaluation Committee, award the contract to another proponent or proponents, or exercise any of the rights reserved by the Government Parties. The Government Parties’ acceptance of a particular proposal does not imply that every element of that proposal has been accepted.

The Government Parties may enter into simultaneous or subsequent negotiations with proponents to determine the final selection of the awardee.
